

The Eagle That Fell From The Sky

TORPEDOES AWAY! The GRUMMAN AVENGER torpedo bomber was the U.S. Navys deadliest weapon against the warships of the Japanese Imperial Fleet in World War II. The men who flew the Avenger against those warships and their air escorts, the vaunted Japanese Zero fighters, were men of uncommon valor and grand achievements. But glory comes at a cost. The sailors who flew aboard the SEA EAGLE knew success in battle could cost them dearly perhaps even their lives. This is the carefully researched true tale of one aircrew that met the enemy without fear and won the Navys Distinguished Flying Cross, but at a horrific toll in death and suffering. For the sole survivor, coming home from war took even more bravery than facing the enemy.
