Dear Mr Scowl Im writing you a letter because well, actually because I have a ban on trying to get too close to Jazzy D or Jason Devaney as I would call him as we sort of went to school together in Jersey. So while I know it would probably be better to come and find you, I think your security men would probably not let me in. (Its all a very big mix-up, which Ill tell you about when you come to collect your goods). So, Im writing you a letter as there seems to be no other way to get through to you in spite of Facespace and Tweeting and all of that stuff (because Im sure you have secretaries going through all those things and answering for you) to give you some very important information. If youre missing a certain pop-star I mean, if the lead singer of a certain very popular band has gone missing No, I mean, I know youll have kept it out of the papers so as not to upset the legions of Jazzy D fans and Divvies the world over, but I happen to know where he is. The thing is, Mr Scowl, Im not quite sure how it came about, and especially how he managed to turn up at my mums boyfriends partners companions associates fiances house, but he did, and Ive had to deal with the fall-out. So right now, Stephen, your teen idol is living in my shed. Cat Andrews life is falling apart. The chemical reactions of the brain are all going wrong - between her friend, Gorgeous Dolores, the new boy with the divinely attractive upper lip, and the girl with hair wings (ie her). Her mums got a New Man and the New Man has a daughter shes expected to get on with. And on top of all that, for some reason a pop star she cant abide seems to have adopted her. Its going to take more than a couple of letters to sort it all out, but luckily Cat Andrews is not your average girl, and shes more than up to the task of working out some Fanmail ...
