

Fight Like a Man!

Amy frequently abused and disrespected her children's father, verbally, emotionally, and physically when her needs weren't fulfilled. She often did this whenever the mood hit her, even if it hit her in front of her children, Andrea and Danny. When Jack could no longer take the abuse, he promptly left for good. His leaving immediately left Amy hurt and alone, so she decided she didn't want Andrea to experience the same pain that she had, so she chose to raise her daughter to be strong, bold, fearless and independent! However, just as Amy's heart had become filled with hatred for men, she raised Andrea to also have a cold heart and fight a man if any of them ever mistook her for weak, while Danny stood by and learned a different lesson. They loved each other as siblings should, but find out what happens when they meet someone who is genuine and causes one to turn against the other in the name of love?
