

Set in St. Louis, four friends find strength, love, and redemption at the crossroads of their lives. Jimpi Jones is a thirty year old virgin with thirteen loofah sponges, one for each baby and bridal shower she ever attended. She never had a reason to give one away. Shes been the good girl all her life and played it safe but when Perry, her secret crush, lets her know hes interested in her, everything shes thought about her life is challenged. Is she willing to risk her heart and soul to a man who already has a wife? Cashel Wilson is used to making the rules for the game. She proved it by juggling men while still getting engaged to her fiance radio personality, Velvet. But, when she hooks up with Lee Anderson the world as she knows it is about to change. Lee uses what made him a great success on the football field to get his way with his women. When Cashel chooses him, has she chosen her own trap? Randi Ruth Miller has a successful career, expensive home, a devoted husband, and no heart to enjoy it. Shes become numb to her life, but when Faris, her first love, moves back home will she give in to the passion hes awakening in her or will she hold to her commitment to her husband, Elgin? Neathery Johnson enjoyed motherhood and the love of her life, Dix. But, when her life splinters apart and she develops a prescription drug addiction, will she be able to receive the only help that can save her or will she be destroyed by her pain? These four friends face their lives with love, laughter and truth, and a bond of friendship that can only be shared by women who never let love take second place.
